 Principal

The end of the first semester is upon us! Please take the time to reflect on the data review sessions that were held, what student expectations need to be addressed, and the action plan to close any achievement gaps that may exist.

Science Fair: The district science fair is happening tomorrow! I want to thank in advance everyone who is making time to help our fabulous science department! I also want to thank Mrs. Garza and Mrs. Bolado for the many hours they are putting in to make this a successful event!

Use of Data to Drive Instruction: Faculty and staff at all schools have a great deal of data accessible to them including STAAR scores, formative assessment data, attendance rates, and more. Schools do a great job of utilizing this data as an integral part of administrator strategies, teacher-led interventions, and student buy-in. A best practice many Schools have established is educating both teachers and students on how to use the data available to them. Teachers can use data to identify gaps in student learning and inform teaching strategies. Students can use data to set their own learning goals and track progress.
